From visit 1, we realized from the principle that any games or computer related activities will be able to educate their students. So, in a small group during this visit, we were conducting a training using Canva to teach them how to draw basic shape to build a simple house. Later, our students teach them how to make poster using Canva. At the end of this section, each participant created their own simple profile poster and they were happy that they can use such a sophisticated technology.
